

Timber Cabins

DSD Buildings can offer solid wood cabins to meet a range of domestic and commercial requirements. These range from Home Offices, Garages, Guest Rooms and Annexes to Holiday lets, Residential Homes and Amenity Halls.

Our Cabins are tailored individually for our customers to ensure complete customer satisfaction. All the cabins are constructed from selected kiln dried Nordic pine, the wood of choice because of its superior stability, limited shrinkage, light weight and beautiful grain. With an appropriate wood treatment programme you can expect your cabin to have a life expectancy of 200 years plus!

We can also design and build mobile cabins for Park Homes or Holiday Parks in accordance with UK legislation. We offer a range of professional services from planning and design through to groundworks, complete erection and landscaping according to your individual requirements. Buildings can be designed and built to meet all UK Building Regulations if required according to the purpose of the building and the specific requirements of the customer. We also sell buildings in Kit form for self build projects.

Environmentally friendly
We ensure we only use timber from sustainable sources with established replanting policies.

Benefits of timber

Materials used are of the highest environmental quality. Cabins fitted with our flooring will find that the air quality improves particularly for asthma and allergy sufferers. Wood is a natural insulation material, so our log cabins are extremely energy efficient. The thousands of tiny air pockets trapped in every square inch of the wood's structure slow the transfer of heat through the log, keeping the cabins warm in winter and cool in summer thereby, ultimately saving money on fuel bills.
